DR. CHING FUN—A CARD—EDITOR STANDARD:—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, next door Kwong Lee & Co. For 24 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffled the skill of three first-class American physicians. Latterly bronchitis attacked my right lung, and my eye became wholly inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I proceed myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentlemen's praises too loudly, or that all my countrymen similarly affected may visit and find relief. The Small-Pox.

In the month of July last the steamship Prince Alfred arrived here from San Francisco with a single case of small-pox on board, the patient being a little girl about ten years of age. So soon as the fact was made known, the local Board of Health took the necessary precautionary steps to protect the public against the spread of the contagion. The sick child was removed to an isolated building and provided with proper medical care, the passengers of the ship were placed in quarantine on shore, and the ship and crew were quarantined in the outer harbor, and all kept in confinement until such time as it was deemed safe to allow them to enter the city. Neither trouble nor expense were spared to stay the progress of the disease, and there was a general feeling of satisfaction that the precautions taken had been so successful. Among the passengers on board the Prince Alfred on that ill-fated trip were two daughters of the late Captain Irving, who with the other passengers were placed in quarantine. It was rumored that one of those girls while in quarantine complained of being unwell, but as no marked symptoms of small-pox were developed, she with the rest was allowed to go at large after the expiration of nine days. That she, notwithstanding all the precautions taken to destroy every vestige of contagion, carried the disease to her home at New Westminster, there need not now be the slightest doubt. Ere she had been many weeks at home her father, the now deceased Capt. Irving, was taken very seriously ill, and so alarming became the symptoms that a medical gentleman of this city was telegraphed for in haste. That gentleman proceeded to New Westminster, and after an examination of the patient, pronounced the case an attack of erysipelas, and in this decision the local practitioner agreed. The unfortunate Captain was accordingly treated for erysipelas, and as a matter of course died under the operation. That he died of small-pox, and that of the very worst type, everybody now believes. And how experienced medical gentlemen should make such an egregious and unpardonable blunder as to mistake a case of confluent small-pox for an attack of erysipelas, is very remarkable, to say the least. Because of this unfortunate blunder of the medical men, people were thrown completely off their guard; erysipelas is not a contagious disease, and so people were in constant communication with the house, and even with the room where the sick man lay, and the consequence was that several others were taken sick, the contagion spread, and already three respected citizens of New Westminster, including Capt. Irving, have been carried to their graves. How many more are destined to fall victims to this most loathsome and contagious of all diseases, nobody can tell. When it became known that it was small-pox Capt. Irving died with, and that almost the entire community had been permitted to come within the reach of its deadly influence in utter ignorance of danger, is it any wonder that they felt indignant at the physicians and talked of tar and feathers? Of course, the medical gentlemen stoutly contend that the Captain did not die of small-pox; but strange to say several of those who waited upon him and visited the house during his illness were taken ill with all the symptoms of that disease, two of whom are now dead, others recovered, and still more are at this moment down with it. We see it stated in a local print, on the authority of a telegram from New Westminster, that the last victim, Mr. Hume, the purser of the steamer Onward, died of typhoid fever, not of small-pox. That he died of the latter disease, nobody need have the slightest doubt in the world. It is quite possible, however, that a gentleman who could mistake confluent small-pox for erysipelas might also confound the same disease with typhoid fever. If the object be to cover up the true character of the disease, under the mistaken notion of allaying public excitement or fear, such conduct on the part of the medical authorities cannot be too highly censured. Instead of concealing the danger, the public should be made fully aware of it, and thus be prepared to guard against it. Had that course been pursued in the first place, two respected citizens who are now in their graves might have been instead alive and well. There is no telling now where the disease will end, and only the greatest possible care on the part of individuals and the local authorities can prevent it becoming epidemic. As yet the disease is confined to New Westminster entirely. The authorities in this city are keeping a close watch lest it should manifest itself in our midst. To be forewarned is to be forearmed, and if the community only exercise prudence and caution and the authorities deal with the matter promptly should the disease break out amongst us, it may be not only limited in its operations but be easily overcome and extirpated. The great danger lies in its getting among the Indians, among whom one case is already reported; but we understand the Superintendent of Indian Affairs has already taken steps to prevent the disease spreading by having the sick person removed to an isolated position, and providing her with proper nurses and medical care. We most sincerely hope that the disease may be stayed where it now is, and that should any new cases either there or here be developed, the medical gentlemen having them in charge may not be guilty of calling the small-pox either erysipelas or typhoid fever.

PROVINCIAL SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
October. 9th, 1872.

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR directs the following extract from a report addressed to the Provincial Goverament, by T. A. Bulkley, Esq., Chief Engineer, upon the comparative advantages offered by "Lang Cove" and "Thetis Cove," as alternative sites for the proposed graving Dock at Esquimalt, to be published for the information of the public generally.

By Command.
A. ROCKE ROBERTSON,
Provincial Secretary.

"In originally selecting Thetis Cove, I was entirely unbiassed. I was aware that "Constance (or more accurately "Lang") Cove" had been mentioned, though I did not know it had been so strongly recommended as I have since ascertained was the case. And I still hold to my opinion as to "Thetis Cove" being the Site, as regards economy and facility of construction, and as being more sheltered and, consequently, easier of access.

Being anxious, however, to place before Government something more than my own bare opinion in this matter, and acting upon a suggestion of His Excellency the Governor, I beg to submit a comparative statement of the cost of Dock in alternative site.

Now, although the cost of actual construction of the Graving Dock itself may be assumed as the same in either place, there are several variable items in connection with the work which will considerably affect the total cost.

Among these the following are the most important. Viz:—

1. "Cofferdam," or the cost of excluding Sea Waters during construction.
2. "Excavation for foundations."
3. "Purchase of necessary Land."

Wherever the Dock is located, in order to make it complete, it will be necessary to fill in round the sides and back, to, at least, 3 feet above high water. We have, therefore,

4. "Reclamation round Dock."

Arranged in the shaped of a Debtor and Creditor account the comparative cost will be as follows:

DOCK IN "LANG COVE."

Dr. COFFERDAM.		Cr. VALUE OF MATERIALS
Length 800 feet Mean Depth 33 feet; Estimated Cost.....	$40,320 00	of Cofferdam after completion say 10 per cent. of cost.....	$ 4,000 00
Excavation for Foundations— mean depth 13 feet, area, say, 4,000 sq. yds — 17,333 c. yds. at $1	17,333 00	Value of Land purchased 10 acres, reclaimed 14 acres, total 24 acres at increased value, say $2,000.....	48,000 00
Land Purchase 10 acres at $1,600.	16,000 00		$52,000 00
Reclamation round Dock— Area 15 acres, mean depth 14 feet deducting area of Dock, & material from excavation, we have 200,000 c. yds. including getting wading hauling, tipping levelling and settlement, at (at least) 50cts.	150,000 00	Debtor Balance...	171,853 00
	$223,853 00		$223,853 00

DOCK IN "THETIS COVE."

Dr. COFFERDAM,		Cr. VALUE OF MATERIALS
Length 410 feet mean depth 35 feet estimated cost.....	$22,140 00	of Cofferdam after completion say 10 per cent. of cost.....	$ 2,200 00
Excavation for foundation mean depth 19 feet, area 4.000 sq. yds. 25,333 c. yds., of this 24,000 c. yds only. $1.....	24,000 00	Value of Land purchased 8 acres, reclaimed 2¼ acres. Total 10¼ at $2000	20,500 00
1,333 c. yds rock at $5.....	6,665 00		$22,700 00
Land purchased 8 acres at $1600	12,800 00
Reclamation round Dock— area 3¼ acres mean depth 15½ feet deducting area of Dock & material from excavation, we have 33,417 c. yds. at 50 cents	16,708 00	Debtor Balance...	59,813 00
	$82,313 00		$82,313 00

Debtor Balance against Lang Cove.....	$171,853 00
do. Thetis Cove.....	59,813 00
	$112,360 00

Showing a balance against "Lang Cove," and in favor of "Thetis Cove," of over one hundred and twelve thousand dollars, ($112,-000).

In addition to the above I might bring yet other items as against "Lang Cove." Viz:—

"Cost of extra length of Face Wall."

"Cost of probable extra pumping during progress of works, owing to increased area of surface, and greater length of Cofferdam for leakage."

Saving at "Thetis Cove" in obtaining puddle for Cofferdam from the inshore excavation for Dock:

But I think I have already made out a sufficiently strong case in favor of my recommendation, and I trust it may meet the approval of Government." oc16dw

The Saanich Ploughing Match.

This event came off on Saturday last, in grounds belonging to Mr. Edwin Johns, opposite to Harry Simpson's, East Road, South Saanich. There were perhaps fifty or seventy-five persons present, including several from Victoria. His Excellency the Lieut. Governor, Miss Pinder, Hon. Attorney General, and Private Secretary, Pinder visited the fete. A reporter of the STANDARD who had just paid his first visit to this part of the district was unacquainted with the farmers and was unable to supply us with names. He, however, noticed on the grounds A. C. Anderson, Esq., Mr. A. Anderson, and Miss Anderson, Mr. McNiff, Mr. Gilmore, Mr. C. Morton; the three latter were from Victoria.

The ground was hardly in order for the match; it was rather dry; a month later would have been better for the event. When the ploughing had finished, the judges, who were Messrs. Geo. Higgs, Robt. Porter, and S. Sandover, gave their decision as follows:

For swing ploughs—First prize, W. Snyder, second, W. Reed; third, J. T. Mellmovle.

For wheel ploughs—First, Geo. Perkins; second, J. Snyder; third, W. Smith.

BOYS' MATCH.

For swing ploughs—Luke Elliott.

Wheel ploughs—First prize, A. Thomson; second, W. Simpson

Mr. Johns gave a dinner after the match, to which a large number of the settlers sat down and talked over the result of the day's doings and matters generally.

The Governor and party were shown over the grounds, and took much interest in what was being done. About half-past three the competition had ceased, having commenced early in the morning, and throughout was most interesting, and is calculated to promote improvement in the tillage of the soil.

Our Weekly Mainland Summary.

CARIBOO AND UPPER COUNTRY.

James H. Kerr died at Quesnellemouth on the 11th, and was buried next day.

SODA CREEK, Oct. 10—At the 150-Mile House, on the 4th inst., steam was got up at Mr. A. S. Bates' steam flouring and saw mills. Everything worked satisfactorily. The stones, which are the best French burrs, are said to be the largest in the Province. The saw mill capacity is estimated at about 10,000 feet per day. No expense has been spared to render the whole plan perfect.

During the last three days the river has risen about 16 feet. Marvin & Wright's upper storehouse, on the point was washed away. We have had heavy rain storms during the past week, but the weather is now bright and frosty.

William Stevenson, of the McPherson co. at Cameronton, met with a severe accident in the shaft-house of the Company on Wednesday, the 9th. While working in the neighborhood of the shaft his body was caught by the wheel and jammed against the partition. Another accident of the same sort occurred the next day in the Ballarat claim. Mr. McAlister, foreman of that claim, was caught in the wheel in a similar way, and was much cut and bruised. Mr. McAlister is fortunately able to move about, though for the present rendered unfit for work.

Mr. Tom Spence had a force raising the bulkhead behind Barkerville. The streets and road damaged by the late freshet are to be repaired.

At the regular meeting of the Cariboo Amateur Dramatic Association, held on Wednesday evening, 9th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—Manager, Marcus Wolfe; Secretary, R. C. Neufelder; Stage Manager, J. Z. Hough; Costumer, F. Perrett.

The Sentinel approves of the appointments of Indian Superintendent, and the Engineer of Public Works. The same journal advises people coming below to get vaccinated. The Sentinel also advocates a weekly mail service, which would, in a measure meet the inconvenience of closing the banks during the winter season.

LOWER COUNTRY.

A rifle match between three of the Seymour Artillery and three of the Rifle Company was to come off at New Westminster on Saturday last; three shots at each of two, three, four, five, six, seven and eight hundred yards ranges.

Mr. Claudet went out on Saturday to inspect the False Creek trail.

The small-pox patients are an Indian woman who had been washing in the house where the disease broke out, and a younger sister of a convalescent patient.

The New Westminster Guardian urges the formation of a Rifle Club in that city.

THE ASHCROFT RACES.—The Cariboo Sentinel of the 12th boasts that that district has the fastest bit of horse flesh in the Province. It writes:—Cariboo now delights in the possession of the fastest piece of horse flesh in British Columbia. This has been fully proven both at the Pavilion and Ashcroft races. At the former McKay's horse "Cariboo Charlie" won the principal race—the "Pavilion Mountain Purse"—and at the latter carried off the two main events, the "Thompson River stakes," and the Ashcroft Derby. When it is recollected that the two first races were mile heats, and the latter a single dash of one mile and a half, it will be easily seen that the staying powers of the Cariboo horse must have been good to enable him to beat the best horses in the lower country. When we can achieve such results with our stage horses, what will we not be able to do when we take to raising race animals? It is quite evident the breed of horses in the lower country will have to be improved. Two other horses from the Cariboo district are winners—Manife's horse "Dexter" and Doc English's colt "Pinto" winning some half-mile races. Where was the fast stock from the great agricultural districts and from Vancouver Island? where? Echo answers—whar?

DROWNED.—Richard Pearce, a native of Cornwall, was, on Saturday last, knocked overboard by the boom, from the sloop Mystery, and drowned. The vessel was going for a cargo of lime to the San Juan kiln, and was off Mitchell harbor at the time of the accident. Captain Dwyer did all in his power to save the poor fellow, by throwing him a line, etc., but after swimming for life for a long time, Pearce went down. A strong breeze was blowing at the time.

THE RAILWAY AND THE BUILDERS.—The Toronto Leader of the first instant states that two companies, the MacPherson, and the Allan, have succeeded in obtaining the sanction of the Dominion Government to prosecute the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Both have a long list of representative gentlemen constituting the Provisional Boards of Directors, and financially speaking perhaps the strongest body of men to be found in the Dominion of Canada.

THE SOOKE ROAD.—Operations on this road are finished for the season. The worst parts of the road are finished, and three good substantial bridges were built. The workmen, with Mr. Nicholson, will return to town to-day.

THE ESQUIMALT GRAVING DOCK.

Letter from a Victorian Now in London.

The following was recently received from London by a gentleman resident in this city, and the perusal of so a communication on a question of so much importance to the people of B. C. will prove of interest.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have as requested by you and other gentlemen interested in the success of the projected Dry Dock at Esquimalt, made some inquiries here.

Many months before leaving Victoria I ventured to assert that the advertisements which have appeared in the papers unaided, could not possibly result in competitive tenders.

Tenderers would require to have placed before them particulars of site, plans, sections, borings, samples of strata bored through, as well as to know what stone shall be used in the construction, and where to be procured. This was abundantly proved by replies received from contractors of eminence applied to by Mr. G. M. Sproat, and myself, by the loss of a season; and by the loss of an opportunity to obtain assistance which may not recur.

Assuming which we may safely do, that the amount guaranteed is altogether insufficient to build the Dock required, and that matters had been so managed as to have obtained the tenders which the Local Government, although submitting no data on which a calculation could be based, were so sanguine as to expect, the facts of the insufficiency and of the supplemental sum required, would have been established at a time when the friends of the Colony in London were prepared to apply through Mr. Goshen for Imperial aid, backed by a combination of circumstances which no longer exists. The Dominion Government was then hesitating to accept the Washington Treaty, and while on the one hand Parliament was loud in its complaints about the losses of such vessels as the Captain and Megœra, on the other, an impression prevailed that the Zealous was not sufficiently seaworthy to be entrusted on the homeward voyage without extensive repairs, etc.

If we intend to profit by the errors of the past, the required information will be disseminated in London and Liverpool, in time, (allowing for delays in correspondence) to obtain tenders before the House next meets at Victoria.

Sproat & Co have offered to act in the matter here, and the offer I believe accepted by our Government, but as yet any information on which a tender could be based is not to be had in Great Britain, and unless more vigorous measures are taken to put the matter in proper shape before leading contractors here, another year will elapse, and the first step not taken to make a Dock at Esquimalt.

People here know very well that as a mercantile enterprise the offer of the Dominion Government won't begin to pay; if so, who will make up the deficiency, the Imperial Government, the Dominion, or the Province? Suppose the two first decline, will the advantages of the Dock be so great to the Province, that the tax payers will be willing to pay £6,000 or £7,000 a year, for 30 years or so to obtain it? If not the future existence of any Dock at Esquimalt may be said to tremble in the balance, and persons not so well apprised as we are of the honest intentions of its members, might be led to suspect that the Executive, apprehensive that under the Terms of Union as negotiated, a Dock at Esquimalt is a financial impossibility, had sought by vague advertisements, which could not possibly result in bona fide tenders, and so bring to light the inadequacy of the means proposed, defer as long as possible the announcement of a very disagreeable truth

In the local papers I notice much said about Immigration, and comparatively little about the Dock. I suppose because the one is a stock subject among politicians, and the other a specialty to which but few persons have devoted much attention.

We invite all manner of laborers and mechanics, and every principle to pay part of the cost but do not always reflect, in the absence of any public work of importance, who is to employ them? How are they to live? On the other hand, the announcement of any large public work, is certain to be attended with immigration proprotional to the magnitude of the undertaking. Such men as Lewis, Munro, Trounce, the Nicholsons, Thomson, Askew, Morris, Pidwell, and others too numerous to mention, were in the first instance attracted to our shores by announcements of public works, and after words remained to take a foremost place among the permanent settlers of the Province.

Very sincerely yours

J. D. PEMBERTON.

MARAVILLA COCOA.—NO BREAKFAST TABLE IS COMPLETE WITHOUT THIS DELICIOUS BEVERAGE.—The Globe says, "Various importers and manufactors have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. PROVINCIAL DISPATCHES

[BY MAINLAND TELEGRAPH LINE.]

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 19—James Hume was buried last night. Doctors Trew, Carral and Foster held a consultation over the body, but did not determin what the nature of the disease had been.

All precautions were taken in case the disease should have been infectious. The Indian cases of small-pox have been completely isolated and all possible steps taken to prevent any further spread of the disease.

Doctor Carroll came up by Enterprise with authority to act with Dr. Trew in arranging thoroughly.

The Enterprise left for Victoria at 9 o'clock with a Cariboo mail and Barnard's express with $30,000.

The Onward left for Yale at 8 a. m. with a load freight and mail, and Barnard's express for Cariboo.

Weather cool and showery.

The Burrard Inlet cable is repaired and ready for submersion, which will be done in a few days.

The Fortifications of Germany.

The Hamburg Correspondent, newspaper says that while the war of 1870 surprised Germany in an almost entirely unprepared state as regards the defence of her coasts, the works which have been commenced have been so effectually carried out that already the mouths of the Elbe, Weser and Jahde may be regarded as thoroughly protected against any attack from the sea. An attack from the land is regarded by military men as impossible. The net-work of coast railways has been laid down in accordance with the strategical plans, and only two branch lines—that from Lehe to Stade, and that from Stade to Cuxhaven—are required to complete it. The other defensive works will be finished in two years at most, and may be got ready even by next year if necessary. But it seems that the German Government is not satisfied with erecting such works at the mouth of the above rivers; it also wishes to take up an offensive position in the North Sea, by enlarging the fortifications on the islands of Wangerooge and Neuwerk. "When this is done," proceeds the correspondent, "Germany will be able to prevent even the greatest naval power from operating in the North Sea, except with forces quite out of proportion to the occasion, as a fleet sent against the German coast would at any given moment be threatened with an unexpected attack in flank from the German navy, which would be concentrated in the practically impregnable port of Wilhelmshaven. A similar, or rather formidable, naval position would be created in the Baltic by the completion of the harbor works in the island of Rugen, and at Alsen, while the formation of the canal between the North Sea and the Baltic, which will connect these two positions, would create a complete system of naval defence for Germany such as is not possessed by any other European State.

The completion of these harbor and defence works would cost at least sixty millions, and indeed there is no occasion to begin the new harbors in the Baltic just yet. But the formation of the canal between the North Sea and the Baltic has already been delayed for seven years, which is the more inexplicable that there are scarcely any engineering difficulties connected with the work, and that the cost, which is estimated at about forty millions, cannot in the present financial position of Germany be worth considering in view of the immense advantages which the canal would secure both to the German navy and to the interests of the German trade.

A Praying Machine.

The Shanghai Courier has been favored with the inspection of a Mongolian praying machine "Hu-lung-tung," recently received by Mr. Stent, along with other literary treasures from Pekin. The meaning of the name "Hu-lung-lung," is said to be "Mongolian Dragon Cave," the idea appearing to be that the use of the machine is to gain access for the aspiration of the sacred Dragon. The machine itself is a real copper cylinder about five inches long and three inches in diameter. The bottom and top of the same machine, are both removeable; in the centre of the bottom is a hole through which a copper pin, about seven inches long, passes, and fits into a socket in the centre of the inner surface of the lid. Holding this pin in the left hand, and given to the machine a revolving motion with the right, it can be kept spinning rapidly round by the same rotary action of the one hand, as an acrobat uses in supporting bowls, saucers, &c, on the top of a wand. The outer surface of the cylinder is divided by chased scrollwork into five panels on each of which is a Sanskrit character standing out in base-relief the whole forming the Buddhist-ejaculatory prayer, "O my pat ma hom." Of course, the idea is that the more frequently the revolutions of the machine the greater the merit of the revolutionist. Accompanying the machine are an immense number of paper slips on which are printed prayers in Sanskrit. There are also two volumes, which are filled with a catalogue of various titles and attributes of Buddha, printed in Sanskrit, Mongolian and Chinese. Of these the following may serve as specimens. Pearly bright Buddha; lion jawed Buddha; lion jawed B. golden mountains B.; peacock-voiced B.; lightning's brilliance B.; peachy moon B.; ox-king B.; &c.,

The Cape Diamond Fields.

The Lieutenant-Governor of this place, in a despatch to the Foreign Office in London, dated on the 8th of last March, on the subject of affairs at Natal, remarks that it has become a question of considerable interest, and one in the reply to which the colony is very deeply concerned, what is to be the effect upon its fortunes—for good or for evil—of the discovery of the diamond fields on the Vaal River? This discovery has drawn a numerous population to a tract of country which in itself offers no inducement, either of soil or climate, to settlers. The migration from the Cape Provinces, from Natal, and from the Orange Free States and Transvaal territories, has been followed by one which seems likely to be of larger dimensions, from England, Australia and elsewhere. It was at first feared that, as in the case of the over-vaunted discoveries of gold in 1869, their would be a rapid influx of the stream of emigration, but as yet no signs have been exhibited of the success obtained being on the wane. The area of search is extending, the quantity of the gems found is ever on the increase, and their quality, if anything, is improving. It is difficult to state the value of the diamonds exported through the colony, so many have been carried away undeclared by passengers by the homeward steamers. The records of the Durban Custom House only give $48,075 as the total value of the gems exported in 1870, but for the first ten months of 1871 the return stands at $160,280.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY STANDARD.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19—The ship Elizabeth Kimball was going to sea this evening; the crew mutinced because they were one man short. A force from the United States revenue cutter Wayanda was called into requisition and the matter was settled by the Captain of the ship Kimball agreeing to pay extra wages and the ship proceeded to sea.

The wreck of the British ship Aculo, the tackle, etc., and cargo valued at over $100,000 were all sold at auction this evening to Thos. J. Smiley for $3,550 for account of the underwriters.

An Eastern correspondent asserts that Thos. Smith, the associate of Jay Gould, in the New York swindling operation, is the owner of the two trotting horses Goldsmith Maid and Lucy, but affects to own only one of them. They are matched for trots on all the great tracks of the country and the races can be sold either way.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, October 19—It is stated that ex-comptroller Connolly is at the Isle of Wight in company with his wife.

The failure of Caldwell, Walker & Co., brokers, is announced.

At the meeting of the National Board of Trade this morning, the Executive Council reported in favor of Chicago as the permanent place of meeting of the Board.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—The Treasury Department recently discovered various attempts to swindle by the Superintendent of the Marine Hospital at Chicago, who, it is ascertained, had offered to obtain contracts for parties on the same. A new man is put in his place by Superintendent Mullet. The matter has been published in Chicago within a day or two as an astounding discovery, but the facts were known to the Department weeks since, and acted upon promptly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—It is generally believed here that Tweed has not actually fled. His escape was all arranged and will soon occur.

Mayor Hall, last evening, said he had heard nothing of any new indictment against him. The reports that he had given bail therefore are false. It is possible he thinks that the old indictment may be emnibussed, as he himself wished the Courts to make inquiry into his official conduct, either in the Courts or elsewhere.

A second dispatch says Tweed has not yet put in an appearance with his bail. As it was not possible any Supreme Judge was to be found on the bench to-day, he will stay at Woolwich, Conn., where it is supposed he will be until Monday.

A Havana dispatch says Loyd Henderson of Philadelphia, who arrived there on the 12th with his wife, was arrested, for what reason is not known, but it is said he is suspected of being a Cuban sympathiser, and even reported to be Cuban born. He claims to be a citizen of the United States, visiting with his wife for the benefit of her health.

EUROPE.

LONDON, Oct. 19—The announcement on the 4th inst. of the marriage of Gen. Von Schawieldier, the German Ambassador of Vienna, to U. S. Minister Jay's daughter, was premature. The marriage was solemnized yesterday.

Sir Roundell Palmer receives £40,000 for his services before the Geneva Tribunal.

Two persons were killed and several wounded, by the railway accident near Sheffield yesterday.

The Virginia is ashore near Brexham, and is expected to be got off. She is probably the ship Virginia which sailed from Antwerp Sept. 24th, for Savannah.

The Cortes voted in favor of considering the resolutions providing for the abolishing of capital punishment for political offenses.

The Harvest in England.

The London News of August 17th, says: Harvesting operations have begun in Nottinghamshire. Farmers are awaken to the necessity of procuring every mechanical means and appliance that can economise labor, and agricultural machinists are having a busy time of it. The expense of getting in the harvest is proving a serious matter, the price of contract work and day work being above the average. One pound per acre is being given in many cases for cutting a good wheat crop, and a laboring man to assist in housing the corn receives in some cases 25s. per week, besides bed and board. So precarious has the weather been that the hay harvest is not yet gathered, and hands have generally been so scarce that even the turnips are not yet all singled. There is scarcely an Irish reaper to be seen, where there used to be scores. The potato disease has appeared in many parts of Notts, especially in the north. Upon many farms in Cambridge the wheat crops are not only good, but excellent. It is true that a large number are laid from abundance of rain. These are not so fine nor so plump in the kernel as standing crops, the latter producing stouter straw, longer and larger ears, and plumper kernels The prevalence of rainey weather has had an injurious effect, and prevented much corn from being cut and carted. This applies particularly to the Fens, where harvest operations have been much impeded. The yield will be good and the grain of fine quality, but at present in the Fen districts little has been cut, and none threshed. It is said that blight has made its appearance, but the extent is inconsiderable. On the high lands harvest began a week ago, and most of the corn has been housed The barley in the Fens, as well as upon the high lands, is superior; plenty of land, the ears of good length, and the kernels plump. Many barley crops are already so ripe that, had the weather permitted, they would have been cut by this time. Oats were cut at the beginning of the month, and fine crops they were. Rye was cut about the middle of July, and colected and has been threshed Beans in the main, are well podded and and gave prospect of profitable crops; the stems are tall, in some instances seven feet high. Peas are nearly cut, and yield well. The growth and success of root crops have been considerably impired, owing to the rain The potato crop gave much hope of being one of the best known, but within the last fortnight the potato herbage has shown proof of disease, which upon examination, has been confirmed. A great many potatoes are affect d and the malady seems daily growing worse. The holders of large plots are much concerned. The fruit crops are not so good as in previous years. There is a scarcity of all kinds of fruit, but vegetables are fine and plentiful, the showers having helped their growth and brought them to perfection.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Urgent Necessity.—These preparations afford the best and cheapest means of removing all ordinary surgical and medical maladies both in this country and its colonies. In the latter the Ointment and Pills are invaluable, for none but the careless would be without an antidote to the accidental injuries and the many ailments to which the settler must be more or less exposed, when at a distance from all professional help. Sprains, cuts, burns, skin diseases, ulcers, abscesses, and varicose veins are readily cured by Holloway's remedies. Varicose veins, bad legs, and a host of other evils are immediately relieved and gradually cured by the use of these healing and purifying remedies, which their moderate price and universal diffusion happily place within every invalid's reach.
